Steven A. Denning Faculty Award for Global Engagement

The Steven A. Denning Award for Global Engagement recognizes a Georgia Tech faculty member who has demonstrated sustained outstanding achievement and commitment to the advancement of the Institute's global engagement. The award includes a $5,000 stipend. This program is funded through the generous support provided in the establishment of the Steven A. Denning Chair in Global Engagement. It seeks to recognize an academic faculty member who goes beyond his or her normal duties and has made a significant and sustainable impact in one or more of the following areas:

- Promoting the recognition of Georgia Tech in other countries
- Advancing research, education, and economic development engagement at the international level
- Providing international experiences to our students
- Incorporating global perspectives in teaching or international components into the curriculum
- Creating new ideas, structures, or products which promise to eliminate international inequalities, to promote global cooperation, or to foster respect for human dignity among nations and peoples of the world.

To Nominate:

Send a statement of advancement of internationalization that includes a description of the nominee's past and present international involvement. This statement should speak to the nature and quality of the involvement in the global arena and how these efforts have expanded and enriched one or more of the contribution areas above. Include the names and contact information of both the nominee and the nominator. Nominations should not exceed 5 pages, and should include letters of support (not included in page count). Nominations should be submitted by email to the Office of the Vice Provost for International Initiatives: Florence.stoia@provost.gatech.edu

Deadline for nominations: February 19, 2021
